

URBAN AFFAIRS extended

URBAN AFFAIRS extended, presents in this second edition, an International selection of world renowned Urban and Streetart artist. Following the motto of the exhibition name this year, numerous external artistic projects, Galleries and institutions are invited to a new exhibition space in an reappropriated Berlin Swimming pool, with over 2,000 square meters of space available. The focus is on the reunification of Urban and contemporary art, interactive performances site specific works with the utilisation of public spaces.

The festival brings together a young generation of artists who have chosen a new artistic path - how to negotiate today's urban environment. Urban and Streetart has become widely accepted worldwide within arts and culture. Exhibitions such as the Backjumps, Nuart or the Streetart Exhibition at Tate Modern in London have demonstrated the high artistic level of two young artistic styles represented.

To create a new international platform and present a wider horizon of contemporary urban art, we developed with the Urban Affairs a modern and successful exhibition concept. The first Urban Affairs experienced over 8,000 visitors from all over Europe. In response to this success a new selection of talented and world renowned Streetart and Urban Art Artists will present their skills at the Urban Affairs: Extended exhibition. At present our focus remains on Europe exclusively, but we are working with projects outside of Europe such as CIUC Festival, Muralismo Morte and a look beyond the borders.

The Berlin Streetart phenomenon, which has been embraced thoroughly by the city is already being incorporated into the strategic planning of the Berlin Tourism development, along with everything else. Numerous exhibitions, publications, debates, media reports and Auction records show the broad potential of Urban Art and Streetart.
